A PUBLICATION OF THE BRONX COUNTY DENTAL SOCIETY

From Alabama To The Bronx

An interview with BCDS President, Jerica Cook

CONGRATULATIONS ON BECOMING THE NEW BCDS PRESIDENT and thank you for participating in this interview, so our members can learn more about you.

Tell us about your background.

I am an only child raised in Montgomery, Alabama. I attended Meharry Medical College of Dentistry and I came to the Bronx for what was supposed to be a year. That was eight years ago, so here we are.

Why were you interested in serving as president?

Honestly, it's a pleasure to just serve the Bronx as a dentist and a resident. But, as president? I'm so passionate about the people here and working in their best interest. I want to be a major part of anything that involves impacting not only their dental experiences but also their general impression of us as a profession.

What would you like to accomplish as president?

I definitely would like more diversity. I would like to see more young people, more women, and more people of color at our meetings. I also want to work on creating a mentoring program or possibly a study club, so there are opportunities for mutual learning and exchanges. Dentistry has changed so much over the years. The more we gather, the more we learn.

What are the challenges you experience in dentistry as a woman? As a person of color?

I am "Ms. Cook" even after I introduce myself as "Dr. Cook" more times than I can recall. I have had my strength questioned on whether or not I can extract a tooth on numerous occasions. I have been inappropriately flirted with, mistaken for a hygienist, mistaken for an assistant, presented entire treatment plans and then asked when the doctor is coming in...shall I go on? Not only am I a black woman, I am also in my thirties, so I still get people who are skeptical that I even know what I'm doing. The challenges always exist and it's just something extra that we carry. I don't know any other way to explain it.

What do you like to do when you are not working? Hobbies, interests, passions.

I enjoy writing and creating whatever I put my mind to. I have self-published over forty children's books with brown characters and images. This includes diversity editions because I'm very passionate about children being able to open a book and see someone who looks like them. They're based on travel, bullying, friendships ending, and quite a few "trace-to-writes" for early learning. I even have one called "Oh No! The Dentist!" that focuses on alleviating fears of dental visits. Everything is available on Amazon under my pen name "Jeri Lavada" and on my website jerilavada.com. In my less productive hours,

I also enjoy good and bad horror movies and I love a good bourbon.

Favorite bourbon?

Haha! My time in Nashville definitely made me a bourbon and whiskey lover. Uncle Nearest is my favorite "neat" but I'm flexible on it when it's for a bourbon sour. Feel free to "buy" me one from the open bar at our next meeting! See you there! ■

Meet Dr. Nassimi

Dr. Daniel Nassimi was born and raised in Great Neck, New York. He earned his Bachelor of Science Degree in Business from the prestigious New York University Stern School of Business with a minor in Chemistry in 2016. He then went on to obtain his dental degree from Columbia University College of Dental Medicine in 2020. During his time at Columbia, Dr. Nassimi was actively engaged in volunteerism and research. He was particularly interested in the early use of augmented reality for anxiety reduction during dental treatments. He then completed his Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery training at New York Health + Hospitals/Woodhull, affiliated with NYU Grossman School of Medicine, in 2024. While at Woodhull, Dr. Nassimi received extensive training in dentoalveolar procedures, implantology, anesthesia, maxillofacial trauma, and pathology. He is committed to providing his patients with comprehensive and high quality care. ■

New York State “Start at 9” Campaign to Prevent HPV Cancers

Supporting the efforts of the New York State Dental Foundation

HPV INFECTION AFFECTS ABOUT 85 PERCENT OF the population and can cause 6 types of cancer, including cervical, vaginal, vulvar, penile, anal, and oropharyngeal cancer, as well as genital warts. Approximately 2,800 New Yorkers are diagnosed with HPV-related cancer each year.

The Importance of HPV Vaccination

The HPV vaccine, which is recommended to adolescents between ages 9 and 12, is safe and extremely effective in preventing HPV infections and cancers. Recent studies confirm that “on-time” series completion is critical to maximize efficacy against HPV cancers. Unfortunately, less than 40% of 13-year-old adolescents in NYS have completed the HPV vaccine series leaving most of that age group unprotected from future HPV cancers. That is why we need your help.

Healthcare Providers Can Make a Difference

As a healthcare provider, you can aid cancer prevention efforts by talking to parents or guardians about the importance of the vaccine to reduce the risk of HPV-related cancer, especially oropharyngeal cancer. Evidence suggests that a provider recommendation is among the most persuasive reasons parents choose to vaccinate their children.

The latest research also suggests that starting the HPV vaccination series at age 9 can increase the percentage of your patients that are up to date by age 13. The American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Cancer Society, and the National HPV Vaccination Roundtable also recommend starting the series at age 9; this strategy is consistent with the CDC Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices recommendation.

Other reasons cited for starting the HPV vaccine series at age 9 include:

- Provides more time for completion of the series.
- Decreases concerns about the vaccine increasing sexual activity.
- Decreases requests for only the “school-required vaccines.”
- Is highly acceptable to systems, providers, and parents.

Nationally, 50% of vaccinating providers are willing to recommend the HPV vaccine at age 9. Learn more about starting at age 9 at <https://hpvroundtable.org/start-hpv-vaccination-at-age-9>

Why I Dental...

At Dental Lifeline Network we understand that your time is valuable, yet we also recognize the profound impact your skills can have on your community. That's why we've made it incredibly easy for compassionate dental professionals like you to give back to those in desperate need of oral care.

From clearing up painful dental infections and helping others eat again, volunteering with DLN's Donated Dental Services (DDS) program will make a lifechanging difference.

WhyIDental.org

For many adults, right here in our own community, dental care is not an option. Dental Lifeline Network is looking for dentists who can change this.

I volunteer because it gives me that warm fuzzy feeling like I had in dental school.

Thomas J. Sniscak, DMD, FAGD

Dental Lifeline Network is a national nonprofit and strategic partner of the American Dental Association. More than 12,700 volunteer dentists and 3,200 laboratories participate in DLN's Donated Dental Services program nationwide.

OUR VISION

All vulnerable adults have access to lifechanging dental care.

OUR MISSION

We change the lives of America's most vulnerable adults through our coordinated system of care.
